What are the criteria of the relevant Publications to be uploaded and published on the ICDRC?

In 2020 the ALF launched the Intercultural Dialogue Resource Centre, a hub gathering documents related to Intercultural Dialogue in the EuroMed region issued from the work of the civil society, media, academia and other relevant stakeholders to make them available and inspiring for everyone. It includes academic and journalistic articles, policy papers, reports, guides, toolkits, manuals dealing with intercultural dialogue with a EuroMed/national approach.

It is organised in line with the following thematic priorities: Education: i.e. intercultural learning; Cities: i.e. mobility, migration and intercultural cities; Media: i.e. media literacy, cross-cultural reporting and its role in shaping perceptions; Culture: i.e. arts, creativity, translation for dialogue; Youth: i.e. youth empowerment, mutual perceptions; Gender: i.e. fighting gender and cultural stereotyping.

Please, take into consideration the following criteria:

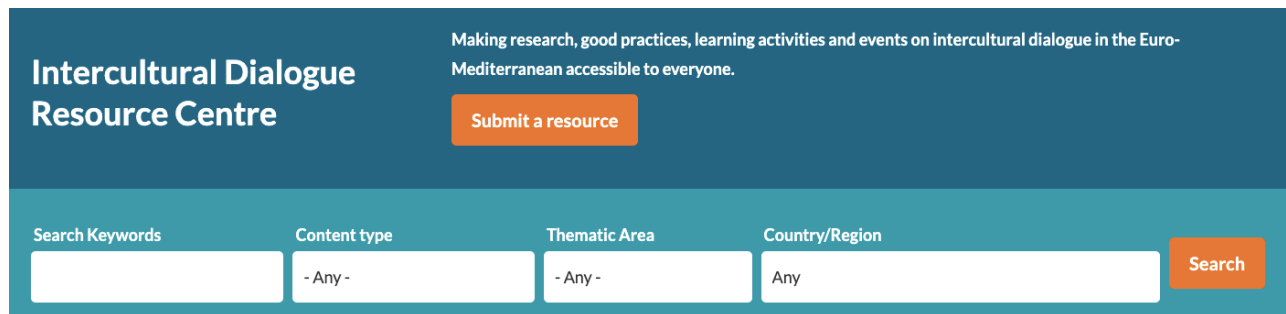

- It is compulsory to provide a link to the publication itself and an abstract of between 250 and 300 words in English, Arabic or French. The ALF Secretariat will ensure its translation to the other two official languages of the Foundation
- May be written in any official national language of the Euro-Mediterranean region
- Be produced by relevant organisations/institutions and available in their platforms
- Be pertinent in terms of Intercultural Dialogue and generated at national level, but interesting at a Euro-Med regional scale and not pre-date 2018

- Have a ISBN (International Standard Book Number) or ISSN (International Standard Serial Number)
- Cannot address politically sensitive, tense and explosive topics nor shall it use language or terminology that can be deemed as increasing polarisation and mistrust in the region

What happens to the submitted Resources?

To determine whether the Publication is relevant please check the section above on “What are the criteria of the relevant Publications”. Upon submitting a resource, it is saved for the editorial review of the ALF Secretariat who will check and publish it.

Once the resource is published, it appears then on the Resource Centre Homepage: <https://www.annalindhfoundation.org/intercultural-dialogue-hub>, it can also be search for using the different search options of the Resource Centre Search bar such as Search Keywords, Content type, Thematic Area and/or Country/Region:
